

Job title	Lead Technician
Reporting to	Company Co-Directors/Project Account Managers
Location	Waterloo, Sydney NSW
Salary range	$86,000 - $106,000 relative to your level of expertise

The Job

dplr are looking for the best technicians in the business to join our rapidly growing, fast paced team. We work on some of the most exciting events on offer from large scale music festivals to highly technical art installations. Working for dplr will challenge your skillset, push you into areas of the industry you've been keen to explore and give you that excellent sense of satisfaction when we achieve the near impossible.

dplr team members deliver events safely, purposefully and accurately. At dplr we value growing relationships with clients and our daily work environment of comradery and variety.

Our people are highly skilled technicians and project staff, we pride ourselves on high end delivery and we're looking for people with a good work ethic and attention to detail.

We are an equal opportunity employer, and we recognise diversity creates organisational strength. Professional development opportunities will be available to the successful applicant.

You Are (Essential)

- A professional technician with considerable experience across a range of technical systems;
- An individual with time management skills and the ability to both self-manage, and work as part of a team;
- Accountable, accurate and able to problem-solve;
- A pro-active communicator
- Familiar with cloud based software and database systems, office, vectorworks or other CAD programs, Adobe suite, etc.
- In possession of a C Class license.

You Are (Desirable)

- Ticketed (forklift, first aid, EWP, White card, Test & Tag)
- MR or HR Licensed
- Always learning and ahead of emerging technologies in the events industry.
- Enthusiastic and good-humoured

We Are

We are dplr (pronounced 'doppler') a growing, full-service production, technical, and event management company established in 2018 and proudly based in Sydney. 2023 is an exciting year for us and we are expanding, building our client base, taking on more business means a proven track record of exceptional deliverables.

Our reputation stands on uncompromising event solutions to far-from-ordinary briefs. Our small team deliver metro, state, and national projects; indoor and outdoor events, music concerts, festivals, live streams, art installations.

We acknowledge and pay our respects to the Gadigal people of the Eora Nation. We acknowledge the deep feelings of attachment and relationship of the Gadigal people to country, and we respect and value their past, present and ongoing connection to the land and cultural beliefs.

At dplr, our people are our biggest asset.

How to Apply

Follow the link on our web page below to upload your Resume and answer pre-application questions. Fill out the online form with as much details as you can, we will be back to you shortly afterwards.